

HERDSA CONNECT GUIDELINES

Vision and aim

HERDSA CONNECT is the magazine of the Higher Education Research and Development Society of Australasia. HERDSA CONNECT offers comment and discussion on higher education issues; provides information about relevant publications, programs and research; and celebrates the achievements of our HERDSA members. HERDSA CONNECT links the members of the HERDSA community in Australasia and beyond providing information about branch activities, member activities and achievements and conference-related activities.

HERDSA CONNECT aims to inspire, connect and inform researchers, developers and practitioners in the Australasian higher education sector and inspire both members and non-members to become involved with the HERDSA community by providing an opportunity for less formal publication of reports on inspirational practices, projects, resources, research, successes and ideas.

Publication

HERDSA CONNECT is published three times a year with a printed version distributed to all HERDSA members. A digital version is available on the HERDSA web site for the wider audience interested in issues related to higher education research and development in the Australasian region. The digital version can be viewed on the HERDSA web site.

Submitted articles aiming to sell or promote a product or service are not accepted. The Editor reserves the right to accept/reject submissions and to edit accepted contributions prior to publishing. Final decisions about editing and/or publication rest with the Editor.

HERDSA CONNECT values fairness, accuracy, and scholarship. Opinions expressed are the personal opinions of the original authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of HERDSA and/or the HERDSA CONNECT editor.

Contents

Each edition is normally between 24-28 pages including cover pages. The conference edition may be up to 32 pages.
